

Abstract

An adaptation to Carrier Interferometry synthesis and analysis provides for frequency-varying subcarriers. Coding and decoding functionality can be extended to orthogonal chirped and frequency-hopped waveforms. Poly-amplitude codes permit successive interference cancellation in spatial and frequency-domain processing. Dynamic re-sectorization and bandwidth exchange are facilitated by subcarrier allocation.